

I'm a man and I like to dress up with female clothes, in my wardrobe you'll find lots of skirts and dresses.

I'm still finding myself, questioning my sexuality.

I'm a woman; since I was born my relatives said I was a boy, but I always knew that I wasn't, today I feel that I really know who I am.

I have never dated any man or woman; I've never felt attracted to any of sexes.

I'm a woman and I only have relationships with men, I never felt attracted to other women.

I'm a woman and I always felt attracted to other women.
